Introduction

This tutorial describes an easiest method to download your vkontakte ego-graph. It only works for Windows. If you are a Mac user, please try to get access to Windows machine to download your graph (good news is that after you get your graph, you can do the homework on your Mac computer). An alternative is to use VK application-programming interface (API), but this method is much more sophisticated and we do not recommend it within this course. If you feel like trying the API method, you can always Google how to do it.

1. Download NodeXL

You will need to download and install NodeXL template for Microsoft Excel, if you do not have it already. Go to http://nodexl.codeplex.com/releases/view/117659.

2. Download RuNet Importer for NodeXL

• Download zip archive from https://runetimporter.codeplex.com/releases

• Unzip the archive – create a folder with 4 .dll files:
